Walk Nets 'Y' $4,657

First and last finishers of the 15-mile YMCA "Miles for Man-kind" walk Saturday are pictured. The project will have raised $4,657 for local, national and international "Y" projects when all of the walkers have collected from their sponsors.

Forty-two completed the walk, two went 13 miles, one 10 miles, one eight miles, two seven miles, three six miles and two walked four miles.

Plans Complete for Big Circus, Parades

Potentate Harold G. Baker Jr. has announced that Alton will get the first glimpse of the 1972 edition of the Ainal Temple Units when they parade on the streets downtown beginning at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 25, followed by Granite City and Belleville parades in June.

Marshall Ray Tibbo promises plenty of action in the three major parades that will herald the annual Shrine Circus this year; the parade at Alton is a new one on the schedule.

The annual Shrine Circus, produced by L. N. Fleckles, features "top acts, contracted in advance to assure the best in the entertainment world. Lions, tigers, bears, elephants, monkeys, dogs, wild acts, tumbling, horseback riding—it is all there and more than two hours of it," Baker comments.

The Granite City Circus will show at the Tri-City Speedway on Highway 303 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 6, 7 and 8 and 4 parade here on Thursday, June 1.

All shows at 7:30 p.m., and all parades at 8 p.m. The Belleville Circus will be at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds on June 16-17, after a parade in Belleville on Friday night, June 9.

Alton's 25 units will be ready for the first parade, according to Chief Rabbi James Carter, chairman of the circus. H. L. Ball of Alton, Tom Burns of Granite City and Norm Ackermann of Belleville are in charge of the parades.

All the parades will include many clowns giving out candy and balloons as well as circus tickets to youngsters.

Development Opposed By Public -- Bieniecki

Involvement of Madison County citizens in the effort to block a 770-acre development proposed northeast of Interstate 270-Route 111 was described Friday in a letter to Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and members of the Madison County Board.

The letter, released to the public, was by Henry S. Bieniecki, chairman of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council and newly re-elected vice-president of the Coalition for the Environment-20th Region.

The other Coalition vice-president, Leo A. Drey, heads the Environmental Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

At its April meeting, at Bieniecki's suggestion, the Task Force urged withholding of approval of the 770-acre project and foresaw "severe flooding problems for areas located south of such developments, namely the Counties of St. Clair, Monroe, St. Louis, St. Francois and the City of St. Louis."

The text of Bieniecki's letter to the County Board follows: "The chairman of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, the zoning administrator and others have contended that certain Missouri 'Interstates' are being the widespread position to the rezoning request for a mobile home city in the Wet Prairie area of the Wet Prairie Bottoms."

"The direct implication is that our own residents do not have the capability for evaluating the rezoning proposal themselves and are being misled by the Coalition for the Environment for the St. Louis Region."

"The facts are that the Coalition's only action in this matter was a letter from its executive director, Charles Schaefer, to Howard Kagebe, chairman of our Zoning Board of Appeals."

"Copies of the letter were sent to all individuals involved in the development of the 770-acre plan, including Nijda 'So' of HUD (Housing and Urban Development), and those having an interest in rezoning measures."

"The Board has been advised of the existence of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council, he would have brought his objections to the local organization instead of to the regional Council."

"Schweighauser's letter is a native of Alton. His father was an executive of Ladle Steel for 44 years until his retirement a few years ago."

"The charge that the Coalition for the Environment is setting in the interests of Missouri developers is refuted by the public record."

"For example, Coalition's legal committee has an ac-

Region Super-Government Goal of New Federal Fund Rules; Study Group Planned

Missouri-Illinois rivalry—still viewed by some as non-existent but revealed clearly by the current airport site debate—this year confronts the Quad-Cities with perhaps the greatest threat to its future since the local community began more than a century ago.

With strong emphasis being placed on regional rather than local planning and decision-making — and with Missourians dominant numerically — it seems possible that the airport likely to be approved for Waterloo-Columbia a few miles south of here in June could be the last major pro-Ilinois decision of the 1970s.

To keep this region eligible for federal funds under Dec. 31, 1972, the U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department warned Friday, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council during the present year must:

1. Define problems and establish a priority list for solving them.

2. Decide where growth should take place and where it should be prevented.

3. Divide planning responsibilities between East-West and such agencies as the St. Louis, St. Louis County and Southwestern Illinois planning commissions.

4. Account for the possibility of a new regional planning authority within its land use plan.

5. Propose East-West changes defining its regional problem-solving role in detail and strengthening its tools to hammer out solutions.

The theoretical benefits to all from such unity and coordination are viewed as immense. But in defining where development can occur and where it cannot, the regional entity can gather to itself awesome power. It quickly becomes of prime importance who will decide such questions and who is influential with them, observers point out.

Answers and decisions will be increasingly made to achieve at Town Halls, City Halls and even County Court-houses, they believe.

Each community in effect might find, itself going, hat in hand, to regional headquarters for approval — not just when federal money is involved.

To get any federal funds for anything, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council apparently must gain sweeping power over a myriad of non-federal-aid matters, including in particular those issues in Illinois "disputes involving zoning and land use."

In competitive situations, such as industrial development, who is likely to prevail? St. Louis, St. Louis County, St. Charles, the Quad-Cities, East St. Louis, Alton, Belleville? This is one of the questions currently being asked.

The oldest of the regional governmental bodies, the Bi-State Development Agency, began life with a precisely equal balance between the two states in its region. Of the ten commissioners, five are appointed by the governor of Illinois and five by the governor of Missouri.

The Development Agency still has the five-and-five structure, but especially since it became involved with the hectic task of operating the regional bus system, Bi-State has lost public and political favor.

Establishment of the East-West Council in part was a reflection of Bi-State's loss of favor. It was contended that Bi-State was not sufficiently representative, whereas the East-West Council membership includes — by virtue of their offices — many publicly-chosen officials.

East-West membership also is roughly equal, with the Bi-State chairman, an office rotating between the two states, casting the deciding vote among the 15 voting board members. However, there are two major points related to this:

1. On occasions, there is no direct representation for the Quad-Cities and certain other areas within the region. At present, there are two local residents on the East-West board, Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, as chairman of the Madison County Board, and John Bellotti, as president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

2. St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence Ross, who is among the principal foes of locating a metropolitan airport in the county, is urging an effort to re-structure East-West along a "one man, one vote" concept. As the action with the county population, St. Louis County would have the largest voice.

The drive to revamp East-West gained headway Friday when three Illinoisans and three Missourians were appointed to a study group to "ways to strengthen" the East-West Council. The six include Super-

The study stems from an April 6 meeting in St. Louis at which HUD Secretary George Shultz called for improved regional "capability to respond" to basic problems.

Several speakers at that meeting stressed that they did not view increased East-West power as constituting a "super-government."

However, the role visualized for the Coordinating Council is vast when compared to its initial "foot in the door" function.

The first East-West task was to conduct regional land use planning so that "a road built in Missouri would connect with one in Illinois."

Its duty of commenting on federal aid requests was soon expanded to include dozens of categories, and it now serves as a liaison for much of the spectrum of Presidential Cabinet departments.

In addition to replacing local-level and county-level governments in making zoning decisions, East-West is being encouraged by HUD to develop specific housing patterns.

planning commissions, vying for economic advantage, allocate more land for industrial purposes, if needed, HUD is urging a regional use plan restriction on the amount of manufacturing zoning.

Other aspects to be directed on a two-state regional basis are transportation, rapid transit, environmental protection, parks and open space, water and sewer needs, density of land use and possibly utility services, public transit and waste disposal.

Elmo O. Turner, director of the St. Louis area office of HUD, in outlining HUD re-evaluation requirements for East-West on Friday, said a detailed land use document must be prepared and made to coincide with other plans, such as a regional water and sewer plan.

He said the map accompanying the land use plan must specify the areas to be used for commercial, institutional, industrial and special purposes.

Turner called on East-West to incorporate an airport site and related land use changes in its basic plan.

Gateway has tried to do this until a site is selected; the latest HUD requirement is to prepare and make to coincide with other plans, such as a regional water and sewer plan.

HUD officials in Chicago this spring said they will require that all development occur in accordance with a comprehensive development plan.

Plans are being completed for an expansion of the Burger Food Store, 3401 Nameoki Road, which will "nearly double the size of the store," a company spokesman said today.

A starting date has not been set for the expansion and remodeling program but "work is to start in the very near future," he said.

Kroger plans to expand 400 residents stores and to build new "superstores" in the St. Louis area in the next three years at a cost of $21 million.

The Nameoki Road side of the local store will be expanded 71 feet and the depth of the building will be increased slightly, increasing the plan for an "in-store bakery" and a delicatessen.

The local store will be the first in Illinois to be expanded. Work is to begin on the Cahokia store when the Granite City project is completed.

Electric Rate Hike Is Turned Down by State

The Illinois Commerce Commission denied in full Friday Illinois Power Company's request for a 19% hike in electric rates, amounting to $215 million.

The ICC ordered hearings on a cost of anti-pollution equipment to learn whether utilities need higher rates for this purpose.

Illinois Power President Wendell J. Kelley called the ruling a "shocking decision inconsistent with increases granted other utilities."

Three Persons Injured In Auto Accident

Three persons were injured when autos driven by Mrs. Patrice Hensley, 34, of 4108 Kaseberg Lane, and Mrs. Thelma Siers, 46, of 2579 E. 24th St., were in an accident at 8:15 p.m. Sunday at Nameoki Road and Washington Ave.

Treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital were Mrs. Hensley for abrasions and contusions to the scalp; Mrs. Kately Hensley, 23, of 3007 Nameoki road, with pains to the left side and forearm. All were released after x-rays.

Three Persons Injured In Highway Accident

Three persons were injured when autos driven by Clinton J. Taber, Edwardsville, Shirley J. Lobb, 34, of 2032 Harris St., Madison, and Robert R. Sauerwein, Hannay, were in an accident at 1:40 p.m. Thursday on Route 162 about a half mile west of Route 1.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital from treatment were Mrs. Lobb and two of her passengers. Carter R. Webster, 17, of the Harris address, and Greg E. Noud, 17, of Collinsville.

Dental School Opens in Fall

The American Dental Association notified SIU-SW on Friday that all requirements have been met for the university to accept its first class of students to the school of Dental Medicine in September 1972.

SIU-SW President John S. Bracke was informed of the decision. Rendleman, Vice-President and Provost Andrew Kochman and Dental School Dean Frank Sobkowski appeared before the ADA's Council on Dental Education earlier last week in Chicago to discuss opening with students in September.

The new dental school, at the university's Alton center, is the first in the state outside Cook County.

"A most significant factor is that the dental school facility were able to telescope the usual seven years it takes to start a professional school into four years because of the crying need for dentists in central and southern Illinois," Rendleman said.

"The direct implication is that our own residents do not have the capability for evaluating the rezoning proposal themselves and are being misled by the Coalition for the Environment for the St. Louis Region."

"The facts are that the Coalition's only action in this matter was a letter from its executive director, Charles Schaefer, to Howard Kagebe, chairman of our Zoning Board of Appeals."

"Copies of the letter were sent to all individuals involved in the development of the 770-acre plan, including Nijda 'So' of HUD (Housing and Urban Development), and those having an interest in rezoning measures."

"The Board has been advised of the existence of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council, he would have brought his objections to the local organization instead of to the regional Council."

"Schweighauser's letter is a native of Alton. His father was an executive of Ladle Steel for 44 years until his retirement a few years ago."

"The charge that the Coalition for the Environment is setting in the interests of Missouri developers is refuted by the public record."

"For example, Coalition's legal committee has an ac-portant corner in making a dream a reality," Sobkowski said. "This go-ahead from the ADA permits us to implement the program to realize the goals of the governor and the General Assembly — upgrading health care for the people of Illinois. The ADA decision benefits everyone, and rewards the hard work of the faculty and staff of the School of Dental Medicine."

Sobkowski said assistance from the Illinois State Dental Society and the dental societies of Madison and St. Clair counties has been "invaluable" in getting the program started.

Although Illinois has about 6,000 dentists, more than half are 35 or older and the overall distribution is poor, with three-fourths concentrated in the six-county Chicago metropolitan area, Sobkowski said.

The three established dental schools in Illinois, all in Cook County, turn out a total of 250 qualified dentists each year but the majority leave the state to set up practice.

Sobkowski said applicants to the dental school will receive notification to-day of their acceptance. The first class will have 24 students chosen from hundreds of qualified applicants from throughout Illinois and the U.S.

The dental school will have an innovative curriculum that will graduate the first class in three calendar years rather than the traditional four. Students and faculty will be on campus about 44 weeks a year.

"We've turned a very important corner in making a dream a reality," Sobkowski said. "This go-ahead from the ADA permits us to implement the program to realize the goals of the governor and the General Assembly — upgrading health care for the people of Illinois. The ADA decision benefits everyone, and rewards the hard work of the faculty and staff of the School of Dental Medicine."

GC Business Offices Burglarized Saturday

Two business firms at 3010 Nameoki Road were burglarized and ransacked early Saturday morning, according to a clock radio found on the floor that had stopped at 1:50 a.m.

An employee reported at 7:20 a.m. Saturday that the offices of Farmer's Insurance Co. and Abrams Real Estate, both located at 3010 Nameoki Road, were entered by forcing a rear door into the rear of the building.

Taken from the insurance office for treatment were Mrs. Abrams and a television set. Mrs. Abrams also was forced open, was a television and tape recording machine.

A stereo tape player, two speakers, a barometer and a crossbow, which were stolen from the club, were recovered in the woods nearby.

Burglars Get $3,454 In Loot at SIU-SW

Entry was gained by forcing a door to the lab. Value estimated at $2,755.

Security police said burglars also broke into the SIU-SW faculty club building late Thursday or early Friday, taking a television-stereo console valued at $699. Some record albums also were taken from the club.

MORE ABOUT Development

itive suit on file in federal court to halt the $300,000,000 Earth City development in the Missouri Bottoms of West St. Louis County.

"At a public meeting in Granite City, the Coalition's executive director stated that in his opinion 'most of the Coalition's Missouri members would be pleased to see the Lincoln Corp. move its $300,000,000 development to the American Bottoms in Illinois' where substantial development already exists behind the canal levee."

"It should be noted, incidentally, that the Earth City development has not been opposed by HUD. The development is planned as a full-fledged, viable and permanent city of steel, stone, brick and mortar that will more than pay its way in taxes."

"It will provide all necessary municipal facilities and services. It will include schools, residences, high-rise apartments, industrial parks, shopping centers and recreational areas."

"The Coalition's opposition to this development is based on the fact that this flood plain is now undeveloped and new levees will constitute additional restriction of the Missouri River and unpredictable flood and environmental conditions downstream."

"In contrast, the American Bottoms has a magnificent existing levee on the east side of the Canal."

"But also, in contrast to Earth City project, the mobile home city proposed for the Wet Prairie Area threatens to overburden our school system, compound our serious drainage problems, devalue adjacent property, overload the county tax structure, and prevent attracting more desirable developments."

"The trailers in this new city will be built in Indiana or Missouri, and will offer no employment to our own construction tradesmen. The promised industrial park, commercial area and apartments have been described vaguely as 'later phases.'"

"The golf course can be considered as a reserve area for more thousands of trailers."

"This trailer city can become one of the largest communities in Madison County. The critical question is—will it be an asset? Does it fit into any logical scheme for the development of the Bottoms? Will it add to the future growth and quality of life in Madison County?"

"There are some individuals who honestly feel that we must accept any new development. The opposing view is that we must exert some effort to plan and control our county development to minimize future problems and burdens to the taxpayers, and to prepare for future needs—for example, rapid transit."

"One of Madison County's larger and long established industries has a vital stake in the development of rapid transit systems in urban areas such as ours. Several thousand residents of our county are economically dependent on the vitality and growth of this company."

"And this growth is interwoven with the kind of far-sighted urban planning that is being urged in Madison County by the ARAPC and HUD. This consideration should have some bearing on whether the planning concepts of HUD have relevance to our own county."

"In conclusion, I would like to make it as clear as possible that the opposition to the rezoning measure in Wet-Prairie is from Madison County residents and taxpayers."

"The Madison County Citizens Environmental Council is the organization that invited John Guilleu to address a public meeting on the project's drainage impact. It was our organization that invited Martin Bracke to discuss the SIMAPC land use plan."

"It is our organization which is having U. S. Soil and Water Conservation technicians speak at an open meeting on May 25 in Edwardsville."

"Members of our executive committee have been attending

Polish Visitor Entertained Here

Mr. and Mrs. William Lupa, 1835 Rhodes St., Madison, are entertaining Mrs. Marianna Gryczyniec, their niece, of the village of Trojanowo, Bialystok, who is here on an extended visit.

Mrs. Gryczyniec, whose husband and two children remained in Poland was born and reared in the same village (Klukow) as that of Walter Bartosiak of Granite City, who has resided in the Quad-Cities for the past 65 years.

The group discussed relatives of the Lupa and Bartosiak families residing in Poland during a weekend gathering. A dinner party is set for tomorrow at Charlie's Restaurant.

the County Board meetings and discussions of the rezoning proposal and related drainage questions.

"Other Madison County citizens have been organizing in groups to collect thousands of names on petitions opposing the rezoning."

"There should be no discounting of the concern and interest that Madison County residents and taxpayers have in a sound development of their own county."

In the Coalition's announcement of the re-election of month of President John G. Brawley, Vice-President Bryan, other officers, it was repeated in another part of the bulletin that the Coalition has noted national task force's conclusion that "urbanization of the nation's flood plains is an economic and hazardous land use."

The Coalition's water resources resolution urges "Congress to place a moratorium on all flood control projects including reservoirs, levee channelization and water reclamation projects."

The resolution quotes a high presidential executive order discouraging "unnecessary" use of flood plains. The Coalition statement further among scientists about "unknown side effects of altering natural systems" and points out that "the Corps of Engineers is still actively promoting construction of flood control works such as industrial levees in the St. Louis region of the Missouri River."

Lewis-Clark Hike

Attracts 750 Marchers

Sunny skies and a brisk breeze rippling 54 U. S. flags held aloft by uniformed scouts created a colorful scene along the Chain of Rocks Canal levee Saturday as nearly 750 area Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Explorers, Cubs and Brownies made the fourth annual pilgrimage to the Lewis and Clark Memorial State Park near the Hartford Canal.

Members of 54 scouting units participated in the 1/2-mile hike, which marked the 168th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark expedition from this area.

The units convened at the ship-to-shore radio station north of the 1-270 canal bridge and proceeded north along the east levee.

At the park site, Arthur Menninger, principal of Mitchell Grade School, reviewed the history of the Lewis and Clark expedition, comparing the 1804 feat in importance in its day with the first moon landing in July 1969.

A re-enactment of the Lewis and Clark was created by Explorer Post 94 led by Henry Hellrich, adviser.

Floyd Jordan Jr., pilgrimage coordinator, Nae Delders of Cab Park 775, St. Louis, and Leland Jones, institutional representative of Mitchell Boy Scout Troop 41, led the pledge of allegiance.

Warriors 3rd at Conference Despite Outstanding Shows

Record-breaking performances by Granite City High School's Jim Robbins and Bob Kratz, and an upset by Stan Stajduhar stole the show at the 50th annual Southwestern Conference track and field meet at GCHS Friday.

Despite the brilliant performances, the Warriors placed third as Alton collected 89½ points, East St. Louis 68 and the Warriors 61. Trailing were Belleville West with 42½ points, Collinsville with 19 and Edwardsville with 11.

In the junior division events, Granite City finished fifth with 38 points. Edwardsville won in the division with 60, Belleville West trailed with 46, Alton had 45, East St. Louis 43 and Collinsville 23.

Record Throw
Robbers let fly the discus with enough force to sail 178 feet a performance that surprised even the senior athletes. The throw broke the meet record of 172 feet, 9 inches, held by Steve Birger of Collinsville since 1969. Robbers' previous best throw was 147 feet.

Kratz, a junior, took the pole vault event easily clearing 14 feet, 3 inches, and 14 feet, 6 inches, and nearly won over the bar at the 15 foot mark. Trying at 15 feet, he slipped and the rain soaked approach. His launch was good and it looked like he may have cleared the bar, causing it to fall.

His jump of 14'6" broke the previous record of 12'5½" set by Marshall Hyde of East St. Louis in 1966. Also breaking that record was teammate Dave Bell who cleared 14 feet and finished second.

Defeated Bob Scott
Stajduhar brought the crowd to its feet by defeating LeRoy "Bo" Scott of Alton in the 100-yard dash. Stajduhar finished the 9.9 seconds with Scott less than one-tenth behind.

Stajduhar also challenged Scott in the 220-yard dash and almost upset him again. Scott finished in :22.2 in a near photo finish. Stajduhar also anchored the winning Warrior 880-yard relay team which covered its course in 1:31.1. Others on the team were Willie Arnold, Rick Schooley and Greg Becker.

Other Warrior varsity showings were: Shot put — Brian Hiles, first, 53'1½"; Weis, fifth. Two mile run — Howard Bryant, second; Adams, fourth. 120-yard high hurdles — Schooley, fourth. 180-yard low hurdles — Schooley, fourth. Mile run — Bryant, fifth. Long jump — Arnold, fourth. Mile relay — Granite City, fourth.

Junior Results
In the junior division, Warrior showings were: 70-yard high hurdles — Ed Settle, second. 100-yard dash — Larry Haddix, third. 880-yard run — Livingston, fifth. 880-yard relay — Settle, fourth.

OUT A MILE. Western Illinois University's Randy Swanson is tagged out by SIU-SW's Jo Jo Crenshaw on a peg by Granite City's Roger Belshe in one of two doubleheaders played here during the weekend which saw the local Cougars lose two games, win one and tie one. Despite the losses, SIU-SW qualified for the NCAA midwest college division regional tournament set for May 22-25.

Cougars Qualify for Third NCAA Regional Tournament

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern baseball players, their pride hurt by a pair of losses to Western Illinois University Friday, came roaring back Saturday in the first game of a twinnish and totally demolished the Leathernecks, 18-4, but then had to settle for a 7-7 tie in the 11-inning second game called by darkness.

The two defeats and one victory and a doubleheader win the Cougars' record to 25-12-2 for the season and Western's season stood at 19-9-1.

Prior to the four games, the charges of Coach Roy Lee had got the news the SIU-SW team qualified for its third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association midwest regional tournament bid. The 10-day tourney will be held May 22-25, and is a double elimination affair. The site will be named later, either in Memphis or somewhere in the state of Louisiana.

Other schools selected are Tuskegee Institute of Alabama, Union University of Jackson, Tenn., Valparaiso (Ind.) University and Nichols State University of Thibodaux, La. The other team will be the winner of a game between Marietta and Ashland Colleges in Ohio.

While the Cougars' awesome 22-hit, 18-4 victory over Western in Saturday's first game was welcome news to Roy Lee, he was happier with the brilliant mound performance of East St. Louis (Assumption High) native, Steve Restoff.

The back-throwing left-hander Restoff, just up from the JV's, came on in relief of the Cougars' veteran southpaw ace, Steve Malone, in the top of the third with the Cougars leading 4-3, and gave up two hits in five frames of hurrying in gaining his first victory.

In that stretch, he also fanned

Six teams will battle it out. A freshman, he may be Leo's answer for a dependable southpaw hurler, although Stan Hawkins of Bethalto also looked terrific in relief over the two days.

The Cougars had a flock of hitting heroes in the 18-4 victory: Mike Altaria was 3-for-4 and blasted in four runs; Jo Jo Crenshaw cracked out three RBIs with 4 bases-loaded trips in the eighth frame; Dan Cole was 4-for-4 and had three RBIs; Tom Twelman went 3-for-4 and belted the SIU-SW "holler guy" and captain, broke out of his slump as he enjoyed a perfect 4-for-4 day at bat (two RBIs) and Tim Summers was 2-for-4 including a two-run triple.

SIU-SW will conclude its regular schedule Wednesday with a twinnish against Eastern Illinois University at Charleston. It will be the first meeting of the two schools in baseball.

The Warriors used 33 strokes in the 18 holes.

Schools finishing behind the Warriors were Jerseyville 338, Virden 349, Wood River 350, Gerard 359, Carlinville 361, Hillsboro 365, Collinsville 368, Bethalto 369, Whitehall 370, Triad 375, Roxana 379, Alton 417.

Twenty-one young people working in the four JA companies achieved individual sales records of $100 or more, Bill Eaker, sales adviser, announced. The number of JA salesmen exceeding $100 in sales in 1969-70 totaled 12. Last year 13 participants topped the $100 goal, he pointed out.

The four JA companies offered a variety of items to the public during the 30-week program, Eaker explained. All were manufactured or assembled by the young people themselves at the JA Center.

Goods produced and sold included barbecue pits, embossed book matches, Christmas wreaths, fudge, religious statuettes, steel foot scrapers, garden hose hangers, first aid kits, steel book-ends and ashtrays and grape-cluster hanging lamps.

Many Orders Received

Eaker said many orders were received for barbecue pits and embossed matches that could be filled prior to liquidation of the production company and conclusion of the program last week.

He urged prospective customers to re-order the items when the JA company resumes production the first week in October. Orders will be taken in September prior to the start of the winter-spring program, he advised.

Those achieving $100-plus in sales with the four JA companies, are: Granco-Bay I, Jeanie Livesey, Tim Schmidt, Vickie Littlejohn, Carol Lasso, Pam James, Ed Fowler, Cindy Adams, Randy Schmidt (over $300) and Jeff Beyer (over 200).

Alico-Bay 2, Mary McQuay, Helen Zeienka, James Flowers, Paul Seebold and Baden and Denise Sharp.

Gello — Bay 3, Darrell Rogers, Cheryl Walls and Steven Rudolph.

J. A. Steel — Bay 4, Jan Eiberger, John Arbogast and Ray Hasty.

Banquet Thursday

Attendance at the Tuesday night JA program averaged 51 participants, Eaker said.

Several JA's and advisers are expected to take part in the annual "Futures Unlimited" banquet, set Thursday at Stouffers Riverfront Inn, St. Louis.

Fifteen area JA Centers will be represented at the affair, he said.

At the banquet, sponsored by the Mississippi Valley Junior Achievement, Inc., the JA Granco firm has been invited to display its production items in the inn lobby, starting at 5 p.m. Thursday, Eaker said.

Granco salesmen accounted for $1,741 of the total sales made by the Tuesday night JA companies, he pointed out.

"We have had a very successful year, and we certainly appreciate the support given our program by the public," Eaker said.

Granite City Steel employees who have guided the Tuesday night JA series includes Sam Sharpe, coordinator; Larry Drake, Dave Schmidt, Larry Merrick, Bob Petemeyer, Lloyd Miller, production advisers; Mike Harris, accounting adviser and Eaker, sales adviser.

Symphony Names Officers, Hopes To Curb Deficit

Officers were elected and 12 retired or retiring members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, with an aggregate of 469 years of service in the orchestra, were honored at the annual meeting of the St. Louis Symphony Society board at Powell Symphony Hall last week. Eight of them were guests of honor at a dinner at the University Club preceding the meeting. Introductions were by Music Director Walter Susskind.

Seven new members were elected to the Symphony Society board — Adam Aronson, David S. Lewis, Howard E. Ridgway, Eugene C. Weissman, Angus S. Alston, Francis R. Slay, and George H. Walker III.

St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos was elected an ex-officio member.

Ben H. Wells was re-elected president of the Symphony Society and Morton D. May was re-elected as chairman of the board.

Other officers re-elected were Stanley J. Goodman, vice-chairman of the board; W. L. Hadley Griffin, Oscar Johnson Jr. and Roland W. Richards, active vice-presidents; Edmondstone F. Thompson, secretary; and David L. Gardner, treasurer.

Financial Upturn

A treasurer's report showed projected figures for 1971-72 representing a marked upturn over those for the previous season.

In 1970-71, earned income of $1,240,773 and contributed income of $1,057,823 combined for a total of $2,298,596. Projected figures for the current season show earned income of $1,495,600 and contributed income of $1,131,700, totaling $2,627,300.

Expenditures of $2,468,163 in 1970-71 left a deficit of $169,567, but a somewhat higher total expenditure for 1971-72 — projected at $2,680,100 — would leave a smaller deficit of $52,000. Even this figure, while projected, is not actually anticipated, according to the report.

It has been determined that the Society, whose accumulated deficit at the end of the 1970-71 season stood at $539,000, must finish the current season "in the black" in order to meet its obligations and continue operating.

Concerts sponsored by the National Parks Service and the St. Louis County Department of Parks and Recreation were given as major factors in the improved financial condition this year, along with sponsorship of the recent East Coast tour and other activities by the Convention and Tourist Board of Greater St. Louis and the Symphony Society's new Operating Endowment Fund.

The Arts and Education Fund and Camelot continued to be the largest source of funds for the Society, with $519,000 contributed this season.

In addition to the new board members named, 24 members were re-elected for terms expiring in 1975: J. Arthur Baer III, John Brodhead Jr., August A. Busch III, Dr. Merrimon Cunningham, Alfred Fleishman, Clark R. Gamble, Stanley J. Goodman, Dr. Richard S. Gordon, Mrs. Gilbert Harris.

Mrs. Warren E. Hedines, Oscar Johnson Jr., Morton D. May, Gerald W. Mefford, Mrs. James M. Pierce III, Joseph Pultzer Jr., Rev. Paul C. Reinert, Ronald W. Richards, George S. Rosborough Jr., Mrs. James W. Symington, C. E. Townsend of Granite City, Edward J. Walsh Jr., Ben H. Wells, Orrin S. Wightman III, Mrs. Charles Yalem and William Zalken.

Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes, Mrs. Donald L. Fleming, president of the Junior Division of the Symphony Society's Women's Association, and Executive Director Frances Poteit of the Missouri State Council on the Arts were re-elected as ex-officio members.

Two years have passed since that sad day, When one we loved was called away. God took him home—it was His will, Within our hearts he liveth still.

Sadly missed by Wife and Family

In memory of ROBERT NONN who passed away May 16, 1969. The God gave us strength to bear it, Courage to meet the blow; Though how it hurt to lose you, Only those who love you know. ## Summer School Classes To Open June 5 in GC

Granite City's 1972 summer school program will be open to all District 9 pupils in public, private, and parochial schools in grade 1-12. It was announced today. It will open June 5 in Junior and Senior High School and continue for seven weeks, ending July 21.

Attendance hours for grades 7-12 will be from 8 a.m. to 12 noon daily. No tuition will be charged for the summer session, but a fee of $3 for supplies and materials will be required.

Summer school classes are scheduled to aid students needing additional work on certain subject areas; for those pupils who are doing work that is entirely satisfactory, but who can profit from supplemental work beyond that which is normally taught during the regular school year, and for 9th graders who have failed one or more subjects.

Transportation will not be furnished. Parents will be responsible for the child getting to and from school. Since the costs of summer school are entirely defrayed from and dependent upon regular attendance, it is essential that when a pupil is enrolled his attendance must be continuous and regular, school officials said.

A pupil will not be able to start a grade and complete it by summer school attendance; however, a pupil who otherwise might be required to repeat a grade may, through summer school, with the concurrence of the summer school teacher, the regular teacher, and the principal of the school where the pupil regularly attends, be permitted to go on to the next grade, it was noted.

Because the problem of staffing is impossible to resolve until it is known how many will enroll, signing of enrollment cannot assure that a child can participate in the summer school program. If a parent desires to enroll his child in the summer school program, he may do so without a recommendation from a teacher. Priority in enrollment will be given to those pupils having the greatest need for improvement in order to maintain their grade level, school authorities said. The Junior High School Program will be held in the Grigsby Junior High building. Subject

A grant of $120,000 has been awarded to Southern Illinois University-Southwestern to support training programs for the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center. The grant is from the U.S. Office of Education's Bureau of Educational Personnel Development.

It is the third year SIU-SW has received the grant to administer the nation-wide Educational Programs in Correctional (NEPIC), according to Robert Gilland, director of the center. The Midwest region office of NEPIC is located at the center.

Gilland said the 1972-73 training programs will be directed at the middle and upper administrators with correctional systems in the nine-state region. He said correctional personnel at the institutions will also receive training.

The nine state region includes Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

The center staff includes seven professional members with two graduate assistants, Gilland said. Last year training was provided for more than 400 personnel, in sessions lasting from three days to one week, he said.

Correctional personnel from 25 states attended the first national symposium on "Alternatives to Incarceration," held in Arkansas, which was also planned by the SIU-SW center staff, Gilland said.

Workshops have been planned for Louisiana and Ohio this month.

Marcum-Daniels Wedding
At Nameoki Methodist

In a bridal gown of gardenia white silk organza and Peau d'Ange lace, Miss Ruth Ellen Daniels became the bride of guest book.

Following a wedding trip to Washington D.C., Pennsylvania and Virginia, the couple will return here in late May to make their home.

Mrs. Daniels chose for her daughter's wedding, a long sleeve frock in apricot crepe. White mother of pearl sequins were sewn on the bodice creating a bolder jacket effect.

Her husband is a graduate of Granite City High School and attended SIU-Alton for two years. He is employed as an engineer at Radio Station WIL in St. Louis.

Scattered lace motifs enhanced the controlled skirt that swept into full court train bordered with a wide band of scalloped lace.

A bouffant veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece embellished with crystals and pearls, and the bridal bouquet was made up of carnations centered with a corsage.

Miss Alice Lisa Daniels, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Candace Sutton served as attendants. They wore latter organza dresses in pastel blue, fashioned with round necklines, high waists and long full sleeves.

A band of daisy chain lace, accented with pearls, encircled the highrised waistline and etched the neckline and upper sleeves. Satin bows and streamers held in place their blue shoulder length veils and each attendant carried carnations in shades to match their gowns.

Ralph Stelling served the groom as best man and Frankie Greathouse was groomsmen. Richard Wrigley and Mary Daniels, the latter brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Guests were received by the newly married couple after the ceremony at a reception given at the home of Mrs. Helen Crist and Mary Kay Crist.

Outdoor lighting can add new dimensions to your home

Outdoor lighting can be one of the most satisfying home improvements you'll ever make. Accents of light outside your home will enable you to enjoy the view of your yard all year long. Outdoor lighting can prevent accidents caused by dark walks. It opens up a new "room" for entertaining in your yard.

And lighting around your property discourages theft and vandalism.

For an outdoor "lighting prescription" for your home, just ask the Illinois Power home economist or residential sales representative. There's no cost or obligation for this service.

Spotlights recessed under eaves illuminate plants and window boxes.

Spotlights and floodlights in trees and shrubs provide an illuminated view of the changing seasons in your yard, and add to the security of your property.

Decorative fixtures along a garden walk let you and your guests enjoy your plantings after dark.

Highlights Told Of GC Band Tour

Highlights of the Granite City High School Band's tour through Alabama and Florida were reviewed by Louis Meek, high school band director, at a meeting last week of the Band Parents Association.

Meek reported noting a "very receptive response" among high school students who were entertained by the local student musicians at a concert in Mobile, Ala. Movies taken on the recent tour were shown by Joe Owens, assistant band director.

Jack Johnson, president, conducted the business portion of the meeting in the high school band room annex. Reports were presented by Mrs. Virginia Oram and Joe Hassler. Nomination of new officers will take place in June, Johnson announced.

Plans for the annual "Senior Banquet," to be held Sunday, were outlined by Mrs. Shirley Kibort.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ann Hogan and Mrs. Josephine Jung.

Regional Report - Airport Plan Environmental Impact Approved

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency says the Columbia-Waterloo location for the proposed second major St. Louis area airport appears to be the best site in relation to the alternate sites evaluated.

This conclusion was reached by EPA after a field review of the proposed location and after making a review of the environmental impact statement prepared by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.

Review of the impact statement has also been made by the Sierra Club, which concluded that the Waterloo site appears to be the least environmentally damaging of those sites under consideration.

An application for approval of the site and $8.4 million in matching funds is currently before the Federal Aviation Administration.

A $2,985,958 draft was received by Lewis and Clark Community College from the Illinois Building Agency. This payment fulfills the state's obligation made in connection with purchase of a site for the new junior college.

The board of education of the East Alton-Wood River High School District has approved revised bids, totaling nearly $300,000, for the construction of a three-story addition to the present building.

A new $541,000 day care program has been established at the State Community College at East St. Louis.

Robert Jacobs, interim president of the college, said the project has been developed in cooperation with other organizations in the East St. Louis area and is set up to care for children whose parents are working or attending school.

A proposal for construction of 13 university buildings, blocked by the governor's freeze last year, was recommended for reinstatement by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Among the buildings recommended were two classroom buildings at SIU-SW at a projected cost of $14.2 million. Enrollment for the spring quarter at SIU-SW is 11,208, down 900 from the same period of last year.

Organizational meeting of the newly-elected County Boards in both Madison and St. Clair Counties took place.

Francis J. Foley, chairman of the outgoing St. Clair County Board of Supervisors for the last ten years, was elected chairman of the new board. Nelson Hagmann of Granite City again was elected as chairman of the Madison County Board.

First-quarter statements indictated a 20% improvement in earnings for the Olin Corp., a 17% improvement in net earnings for National Steel Corp., and an 11% increase in earnings for Owens-Illinois, Inc. Higher profits for the same period were also noted by Laclede Steel Co.

The Illinois Pollution Control Board approved an agreement between Granite City Steel Co. and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency calling for the investment by the company of $4.1 million in pollution control equipment.

Peabody Coal Co. has received a $150,000 contract from the U.S. Department of Labor which will be used to train 40 jobs persons to work in area mines. Peabody has six mines in this region employing about 1,000 persons.

Announcement was made of a projected apartment complex planned in Maryville. The complex, comprising 56 apartment units, is to cost $620,000. Plans also are underway for new city halls in Wood River and Centerville.

The Belleville City Council enacted an ordinance designating the St. Clair County Courthouse as a historic landmark in an effort to prevent demolition of the 11-year-old structure. The council also sold $7.8 million in revenue bonds to provide for extension of sewers and upgrading of three treatment plants.

The Village of Glen Carbon has made application for federal and state grants totaling $1.5 million for improvements to its sewer system. A meeting is scheduled for officials of the Caseyville Township Sewer System and the City of O'Fallon to explore cooperative sewer projects.

Transcribing of Assembly's Debates a Big, Costly Task

By PAULA MUSTO
Copy News Service

Spiral field—Any great words of wisdom Illinois legislators might utter are no longer in danger of being lost to posterity.

Every single word spoken in the General Assembly, including the "ahs," "ers" and even any four-lettered adjectives, are now being recorded and transcribed.

The "record-transcribe" system is required under the new state constitution. Though it went into effect last fall, state officials are just now getting the system down pat.

To do the job, the state is employing a staff of secretaries and proof readers and using sophisticated dictaphone and recording equipment to catch every syllable.

So far, their efforts have produced about 4,072 written pages, or approximately one million words, in the 40 or so legislative days the process has been in operation.

The words, however, aren't really expected to start piling up until this session gets going to work in the closing days.

The big question right now is just what the state is going to do with all its words.

"So far no one has been beating on the doors to get at the stuff," said Bob O'Keefe. The situation is about the same in the House, where only four or five persons have inquired about the material.

"I guess someone might want to read it if they need something to put them to sleep at night," said Fred Selke, House Clerk, who oversees the project in the House.

"Other than that, I don't know what they would want it for. The Journal (legislative report) gives all the basic information," said Selke.

His colleague in the Senate agrees. "In my opinion, it is not needed," said Kenneth Wright, Secretary of the Senate. "The Journal is enough. All you get from the transcript is a lot of extra words," said Wright.

The state officials seem unable to give an exact figure of what all these words are costing the taxpayers, since secretaries working on them do it off and on.

But considering the tapes and records, the $8,500 dictaphone machine the House bought, and at least five salaries for the transcribers, the words aren't coming cheaply.

"It's an awful lot of work, and I don't know exactly what for," said O'Keefe. He said he thought it would serve the purpose just as well if the state just kept the recordings, skipping the laborious transcribing.

So far, the only inquiries for the material have been legislators wanting to check out what they did or did not say on the floor of the legislature.

O'Keefe said that another possible use for the material might be if the courts, when ruling on validity of a law, wanted to study the legislative debate to determine what the lawmakers intended when drawing up the legislation.

Upward Trend of Canal Freight Continues

For the fourth consecutive month, freight tonnage shipped through the Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal increased during April, according to a report by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Shipments in April totaled 4,065,244 tons with contractor freight of 10,300 tons included in the total. In January, shipments totaled 2,980,180 tons, in February the tonnage increased to 3,146,572 tons. In March, 4,280,665 tons were shipped through the canal.

The April figure also is higher than in April 1971 when shipments of 4,014,736 tons were recorded. The record for one month at the locks is 5,373,775 tons shipped in October, 1970. April's shipments brought the total tonnage for the first four months of the year to 15,776,000 tons, well above the 13,021,457 tons reported for the same period of 1971. The 1972 figure also is above the 1970 total of 14,326,531 during the first four months.

A total of 6,067 vessels moving through the locks in April, is slightly less than the 6,183 reported in March, but exceeds the 5,162 vessels locked through the canal in April 1971.

Counts of passenger boats, private recreation boats and government tow boats and construction boats, increased in April over the previous month while the number of tow boats, barges, government contractor boats and government barges and patrol boats declined.

Private recreation boats were up from 15 in March to 50 in April and passenger boats increased from zero to four during the month. Government tow boats increased from four to five and government construction boats went from zero to one.

Commercial tow boats moving through the canal declined from 1,088 to 981 and barges decreased from 4,989 to 4,567. U.S. contractor boats dropped from 86 to 38 and government barges dipped from 14 to four. Patrol boat movements also declined, from 24 to 17.

Lockages declined from 1,003 in March to 969 in April, but a total of 3,563 lockages for the first four months of the year is well ahead of the 1,949 in the same period of 1971. Lockages in April 1971 totaled 587.

Total commercial tonnage moving through the canal was 2,439,494 tons, while 2,455,450 tons moved downriver. Freight shipments included: petroleum products, 680,144 tons upriver; 176,350 tons downriver; grain, 50,100 up, 1,958,450 down; coal, 821,650 up, 11,000 down; cement, sand and gravel, 8,200 up, 52,650 down; miscellaneous commodities, 569,150 up, 103,100 down; iron and steel products, 36,250 up, 111,400 down, and chemicals, 293,000 up, 42,500 down.

of April, Prairie Farmer is a semi-weekly farm magazine published in Chicago and circulating in the Midwest, mainly Illinois and Indiana.

More farmers disapprove of Governor Ogilvie than approve of him, the latest Prairie Farmer poll shows. Nearly 43% disapprove of the job Ogilvie is doing as governor while 38% approve. Only a token number strongly approve of the governor's record, 7.4%.

Since the last Prairie Farmer poll taken in September 1971, farmer opinion has shifted slightly from approval to disapproval.

Many farmers, angry over personal property and real estate tax burdens, are looking for a "scapegoat" and the governor would seem to be a candidate for this label.

Even farmers who usually vote straight Republican give the governor only 59% of their vote.

The governor gets 41% support from farmers in the 40 to 60 age group, compared with 35% approval from both younger and older farmers.

Farmers under 40 preferred Muskie to the other Democrats.

College-trained farmers show the greatest enthusiasm for Nixon and the least for George Wallace.

The poll was the personal interview type. Interviewers talked with a representative sample of 500 farmers throughout the state, and the interview was conducted in the first week

Establishment of County Land Use Control Desirable With a Proper Summary Statement

A constructive aspect of the current discussion of future development of Madison County is that all parties see value in the establishment of a county land use and transportation plan.

Land use controls are desirable not only for their own merits but also for practical reasons. Madison County is finding its hands tied until it has formulated and adopted specific development guidelines.

The Press-Record was among the active proponents of a zoning program. Its adoption by the County Board was hailed by many as a victory for the public and for the cause of orderly progress. We recall, and so do county and zoning officials, that areas not developed at that time were designated as agricultural.

Purpose of this catch-all designation was convenience, rather than any actual idea that farm land should perpetually remain in agricultural use. The County Board at that time was rezoning was a natural process which could take place on whatever occasions proper new land uses were proposed.

Since the current regional-federal approach to land use controls appears to be that original designations remain in effect permanently, with only a few grudging changes ever permitted, Madison County needs to proceed with its eyes wide open. Once it adopts a detailed land use plan, it is going to have to live with it.

A December 1969 county land use proposal published by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Planning Commission included the idea of an undeveloped "green belt" area several miles wide, strait-jacketing the Quad-Cities along an arbitrary boundary line near Highway 111.

There is not much sound precedent for this idea, and total adherence to it could lead to an even bigger "green" area, with "grass growing in the streets." This is true because a blockade on normal new development would tend to force a decline in jobs and thwart a viable economy, leading to accelerating difficulty in providing school and other governmental services.

There are some sections of the proposed plan which make sense. But other portions—and the ugly bottomland, beautiful bluffs—attitude of Planner Martin Braske, expressed in the report and in his public remarks—are unacceptable.

Although he was terminated from employment with SIMAPC, the plan coordinator continues to speak as an authority. He does concede that his conclusions never gained County Board sanction and that, in any event, they are somewhat outdated.

The air undoubtedly could be cleared if such SIMAPC officials as President Belford or Executive Director Mikesell spoke out and if SIMAPC inserted inextricably in the plan document a summary statement incorporating the elements of the proposal that are justifiable environmentally, economically and aesthetically.

This summary could make it clear what the plan does and does not specify, in terms of current SIMAPC and County Board thinking. It could and should disavow assumptions which have led to distortions of fact and logic by some citizens.

The summary statement could reinforce the concept mentioned on Page Five and elsewhere in the proposed plan—"orderly extension of public utilities and community facilities"—and assert clearly that extension of present Quad-City facilities to the north and east is authorized and encouraged in instances where adequate planning and engineering show a development is feasible.

A detailed land use plan for Madison County, and for inclusion in SIMAPC and East-West Gateway Coordinating Council land planning, can be a valuable tool for this county and its citizens. If the data are accurate and fair and conducive to reasonable future decisions and actions.

The Madison County Board, aided by SIMAPC, could take such a forward step soon—not through a time-consuming new round of theoretical planning, but by justifying its position and opinion in terms of the public and from their own experience and judgment.

Approval of School of Dental Medicine Is A Big Milestone for SIU-SW and Downstate

Nowhere in Illinois except Cook County are future dentists being trained. All that will change in September, when the first class of SIU-SW reports to the Alton center of the local university.

The American Dental Association formally notified SIU-SW of its approval of the school. The announcement has been met with high praise. The accomplishment goes to Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, Illinois legislators, University President John Rendleman and Dental School Dean Frank Sokolowski for teleseminar the usual seven years to start a professional school into three years.

The shortage of dentists in Downstate Illinois is so serious that the new school of dental medicine here is being hailed as a landmark. All who shared in the effort to establish it—including Dr. Albert W. Tritjan and other Quad-City dental surgeons—deserve hearty congratulations.

Madison Explosion Again Showed Helpfulness, Unity of Quad-Cities

To the Editor:

On behalf of the city of Madison, the City Council and myself, I thank the many people who extended their help in the disastrous explosion and fire which occurred May 2.

We want to thank businessmen of our community, especially Jerry Maers, for their generous contributions. We also thank Mrs. Paul Freeman and Sam Dymas, who provided refreshments for the firemen, policemen and everyone who was fighting the fire.

The Venice Fire Department helped our fire department control and minimize the property damage. We thank the various police departments, such as Sheriff John Maers' department, Venice and Granite City police and, in addition, the Granite City Steel Co. Security Police under the direction of Joseph Schall.

Last, but not least, we offer our thanks to Mayor John Lee and the Venice Street Department, which assisted our own street department in clearing the debris and aiding in the boarding of windows.

At a time like this, it gives one a feeling of pride and humility knowing that you have neighbors like Venice and Granite City to help in a time of crisis.

We want also to commend our own fire department for doing an outstanding job of restricting property damage and keeping injuries to a minimum. Also, the Firemen's Ladies' Auxiliary was out in force to assist wherever possible.

Our police department also is to be noted for keeping traffic moving and keeping people from the danger area. Marvin Owens should be congratulated for an outstanding performance in alerting the fire departments immediately and, especially, for assisting the inhabitants from the burning houses.

Again, it seems that whenever a tragedy or disaster situation arises, the true meaning of the name "Tri Cities" asserts itself.

MIKE SASYK
Mayor, City of Madison

NEW HOSPITAL WOULD SAVE VITAL MINUTES

To the Editor:

I am once again a Granite City resident (my birthplace), having lived in Edwardsville during the past eleven months since my marriage.

During the time I lived in Edwardsville, I became very interested in the plans for the new hospital near the intersection of the Collinsville-Edwardsville area.

On Monday I read the small front page item about the opposition of ARCH and St. Elizabeth Hospital to the proposed new hospital. After all these months of planning and construction, my frustration and disgust have reached a peak. I feel that the opposition is unwarranted.

Let me qualify my position by saying that I have a special interest in the health needs of this community.

In June I will be graduated from SIU with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. Because of my background, I think my observations are fairly accurate.

The Alliance for Regional Community Health is opposed to the new hospital, as well as hospital expansion programs in St. Louis County, because they say no new hospital beds are needed; the present number is only minutes away.

No matter how adequate the number of hospital beds is at present, they are not all in the right places.

We in Granite City take for granted that our community hospitals are only minutes away. And these few minutes can be so important, especially in a crisis situation.

Name and address must accompany each letter, but will not be revealed. Letters are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. These letters or all in good taste will be rejected or edited.

tration) feel that they will be put in financial jeopardy? Having worked at St. Elizabeth's on different occasions during the past few years, I do not feel that the residents of the Collinsville-Edwardsville area truly make up a substantial portion of patient load here.

It seems that most of these people who are opposed to the Alton, Belleville and Highland. If this is the basis of their fears, their logic seems most unusual.

Perhaps St. Elizabeth's fears losing Quad-City residents to the new hospital. Dissatisfaction with previous services is easily led many persons to seek hospital care elsewhere.

Adapt Space Efficiency to Problems of Daily Life?

Copley News Service
As we marvel at the precision of another safe splashdown and recovery crew, a highly successful Apollo mission, we are left with a troublesome question.
We need astronauts to the moon and back with such flawless efficiency, why do so many scientific and technological problems here on earth remain unresolved?
We need modes of transportation that are safer and do not pollute the air or strangle our cities with traffic.
We need better systems of waste disposal.
We need new methods for generating electric power that do not rely on dwindling supplies of fossil fuels.
We need to unlock biological mysteries behind such diseases as cancer.
We need to find new ways for hungry people of the world to feed themselves.

Everyone could compile his own list of goals that might well respond to the kind of mobilization of brainpower and production that made such a success of the Apollo program. For all the wealth of scientific information about the earth, the moon and our universe being garnered by our astronauts, one of the greatest gifts of the space program is what it can teach us about our own capabilities as a nation and a people.

Voluntary Export Limits Can Aid Health of Steelmaking in U. S.

BY EDWIN H. GOTT
Chairman, American Iron and Steel Institute

The domestic steel industry is gratified that steel producers in Japan, the European Economic Community and the United Kingdom have agreed to place voluntary restrictions on their exports to the United States over the next three years.

Their decision indicates that they recognize the serious implications of this nation's steel industry in recent years. Of course, the arrangement will be effective only if the participants adhere to its terms.

The new limitations are superior in several ways to the voluntary arrangement that expired at the end of last year. The growth rates in the new voluntary restraint program are lower than those in the old program.

steel demand in the United States in recent years than was the higher growth rate in the old program.

The new program also recognizes the severe disruption which occurred in certain geographic and specialty steel markets under the old three-year agreements.

We appreciate the government's efforts. It has responded to the industry's growing concern throughout the country for the well-being of the nation's vital basic steel complex and the hundreds of thousands of persons the industry employs.

We now hope the government will proceed promptly and with equal vigor to seek similar voluntary commitments from other important steel-producing nations whose recent shipments to this country have constituted about 17% of all steel imports into the United States.

State Status--

Bitter Race Will

Spotlight Tracks

Springfield—Any hopes that the 1972 Illinois governor's campaign would be waged on a high level, with emphasis on issues rather than personalities, has proven short-lived.

The battle between incumbent Republican Richard B. Ogilvie and Democrat Daniel Walker is going to be politically bloody.

This became clear after their first "debate," held before United Press International editors in Springfield.

Walker came out swinging at Ogilvie on the race track scandal matter.

Ogilvie, who rapped Walker for allegedly unfounded campaign statements at the editors' meet, subsequently hit back hard at him on the race track matter in a subsequent news conference at Chicago.

Where, Ogilvie asked, was Walker when former Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner was changing Illinois race track dates to favor his own political friends?

Walker was for a time a member of the Kerner administration as secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission and briefly as its acting chairman. Kerner currently is under indictment and facing trial on his alleged race track involvement.

With the Kerner trial slated to be in full swing during the late summer and fall, the gubernatorial campaign is likely to be as crowded with race horses as was the field in the recent Kentucky Derby.

However, the racing stock market is expected to be only one of many abrasive ones that, in the Statehouse view, will turn the governor's campaign into one of the most bitter in Illinois history before the Nov. 7 election date.

Walker, who displayed a tough style and to some an irresponsible style—in his upstart primary victory over Lt. Gov. Otto Simons—expected to continue his slashing attacks on Ogilvie.

But in contrast to Simons, who unsuccessfully sought to ignore Walker and his charges, Ogilvie is certain to hit back, and hard.

Already revealed is one tactic, to tie in Walker with the now discredited regime of Otto Kerner.

Not only has the taint of scandal now broadly been smudged those eight years, but the Ogilvie camp can be expected to consistently remind voters that little in the way of progress in state government was accomplished under Kerner.

The virtual stalemate in highway building has already been emphasized, with corresponding emphasis on the immense and continuing progress of this area under Ogilvie. Other examples are to be made.

At the same time, the Republicans will contend that Walker, for all his oratory today, said or did little in those complacent years to stimulate Kerner or others in his administration to keep Illinois abreast of the nation's comparable size states.

It is also predicted at the statehouse that, sooner or later, the GOP will attack Walker on his currently virtually ignored past record of a commission which issued a report highly critical of the Chicago police department.

Ogilvie, a former Cook County sheriff who takes a firm stand as governor regarding Chicago and campus disorders, could possibly score well against Walker on the law and order issue.

25 Years Ago Madison War Memorials Planned

MAY 15, 1947
Mayor Stephen Maers asked for and received City Council permission to have a war memorial in front of the Madison City Hall. He recalled the names of war dead. A Madison H.Y. organization erected the memorial in 1945, with five names inscribed at that time, and it is planned to add the remainder of the names. A proposed swimming pool and recreation center also is to be made a memorial to the war dead. Permission was granted to Edgar E. Converse of the CIO-Grain City Industrial Council for the union to hold a Labor Day parade through Madison; a picnic at Pontoon Beach will follow the parade.

Pontoon Plans Long-Range Street Program

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

A long-range program of street improvements in Pontoon Beach in which all streets eventually would be blacktopped with installation of curbs, gutters and underground drainage tiles was proposed by village trustees during a meeting Thursday night.

The board agreed the plan would result in substantial savings because the present program of oiling and chipping must be repeated frequently to keep the streets in good condition.

Trustee Loren Madison suggested that village engineers could develop a program with several streets being improved each year through use of motor fuel tax funds allotted by the state.

Fred Reecer, village street commissioner, said he already has talked with state engineers and learned it would be feasible to improve street entrances along Pontoon Road from Route 111 to Breckenridge Lane.

The trustees agreed that Reecer and the members of the street and alley committee should meet with the state to develop the plan, which also would include asphaltting Pontoon Road from Breckenridge Lane to Highway 111.

Could Share Cost. According to Reecer, the cost could be divided three ways, with 50% in federal grants, 25% by the state and 25% by the village.

Board members also voted to appropriate $1,000 to blacktop entrances to Bruene Drive and Kathy Drive at their intersections with Lake Drive.

Reecer requested approval of a one or two-day extension for cleaning a storm drain in Lakeview Estates by the Roto Rooter Co. of St. Louis.

Trustee Dean Rochester asked "Why are two extra days needed?" Dr. Rochester also questioned payment of any additional monies as the original bid was for $3,750 for the entire job to be done in ten days.

Ordinance Delayed
An ordinance that would prohibit the sale of ice cream from vehicles was referred to the city attorney for further study after Dr. Rochester questioned the legality of the ordinance.

David Moss, former health officer in Pontoon Beach, urged the village to correct a dangerous condition caused by rain water filling open basement excavations in the Glenview Estates subdivision. Moss told the board that the trustees would be "morally responsible if a child's life is taken because of their lack of action."

The trustees approved the draining of basements that were dug and left vacant, and instructed the city attorney to investigate what legal action could be taken against the property owner if not filled in, or houses constructed on them.

An ordinance was approved pertaining to dangerous buildings, houses, sheds and fences that create a safety hazard due to faulty construction, or lack of proper repair. The ordinance carries a fine up to $300 for each violation. Each day the dangerous conditions exist will constitute a separate violation.

A resident from the Cool Valley subdivision asked the village board to take action against persons living on Irish Ave. that are working on old cars until as late as 10:30 p.m. Board members said they will instruct the police to look into the matter and take necessary measures to correct the situation.

A heated discussion followed over the police department spending money without proper authorization to do so. The bill in question was for $123.75 repair of a police car. Action on the bill was deferred pending a recessed meeting.

A few minutes after the meeting recessed until Saturday, village police separated Bud Mariette, a former police dispatcher, and Loren Madison, a village trustee, who became involved in a heated argument. The two men went to the police station, but no complaints were filed.

In Saturday's recessed meeting, the board approved a three-day extension on the sewer project after a detailed explanation was given as to why the extra time was needed. The Rotoor company agreed to pump the water from basements that were felt to be a hazard.

In other action the board also approved payment of the $132.37 repair bill for the police car after the chief of police reported them as to why it was repaired without authorization.

Junior Achievers to End Year at Dinner

Area high school students, all members of Junior Achievement, and business leaders who support the JA program, will gather for the 23rd annual "Future Unlimited Banquet" at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn Thursday, at 6:00 p.m. Almost 2,000 adults and youth will attend the banquet. M. R. Chambers, Chairman of the Board of Interco, Inc. is the banquet chairman.

A resident from the Cool Valley subdivision asked the village board to take action against persons living on Irish Ave. that are working on old cars until as late as 10:30 p.m. Board members said they will instruct the police to look into the matter and take necessary measures to correct the situation.

A pre-and post-dinner highlight will be the full production and display of products of the Junior Achievement companies in Stouffer's Exhibition Hall. These companies will be in operation from 5 to 6 p.m. and 9 to 9:30 p.m.

VETERANS SWAP CHORES. Ben Sanders, Amvets Post 51, commander, left, relinquishes 106 U. S. flags to Commander Harry Ellis of American Legion Post 113. Legions will be responsible for installing the flags along Madison Avenue on Memorial Day and subsequent patriotic holidays this year. The flags were secured last spring through the efforts of Alderman Paul Schuler, Amvets Steve Conkovich and the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council. Amvets posted the pennants in 1971. Other veterans' groups will handle the job next year.

Two Youths Arrested In Store Burglary

Police arrested two youths inside the H & H Liquor Store, 2528 Nameoki Road, after the officers were alerted that burglary was in progress at 4:50 a.m. Saturday.

Charged with burglary was Robert D. Nelson, 15, Saratoga St. A 16-year-old youth also was taken into custody. Responding to a call from a nearby resident, police officers quickly found one youth in the liquor store and after searching the premises discovered the second intruder hiding in a closet. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in a rear door, police said.
